TOPICS OF INTEREST

ComplexD2Care:

Integrated, Scalable Solutions for Complex Type 2 Diabetes in Rural Regions

ComplexD2Care aims to reduce health inequalities and improve outcomes for people living with advanced type 2 diabetes in rural and underserved regions across Europe. This population experiences disproportionate rates of complications, disability, and avoidable hospitalizations caused by late diagnosis, fragmented care, digital exclusion, and workforce shortages. While EU-funded projects have explored integrated care and digital solutions for diabetes, scalability across underserved geographies and applicability to high-need patients remains limited. ComplexD2Care proposes a transnational, multi-stakeholder implementation research effort to co-design, transform, and evaluate scalable, person-centred care models, enabled by digital tools and workforce capacitybuilding.
