HORIZON-CL3-2027-01-FCT-05 – Effective and evidence-based responses to the increased availability and use of synthetic drugs and stimulants in Europe

- (*) Offering/ requesting expertise; interest in coordination/ project partner role; brief description of the project concept, if relevant

Offering expertise as a project partner; not seeking coordination. We are interested in joining a multidisciplinary consortium addressing rapidly evolving synthetic drug and stimulant markets, including new psychoactive substances (NPS) and emerging high-risk substances. We are particularly interested in projects that connect research, technological innovation with civil-society and lived-experience knowledge, and that test and validate evidence-based tools and responses in real-world settings. The Alliance can contribute national stakeholder coordination, participatory research, user-oriented validation and translation of project results into policy and practice.

- (*) Description of the expertise requested/offered (up to 1000 characters)

The Alliance is Slovenia's national umbrella organisation of 16 NGOs working in harm reduction, prevention, treatment, rehabilitation, outreach, drug checking and social inclusion. We represent the NGO sector in the Government Commission on Drugs, a national cross-sector platform bringing together ministries, public health institutions, law enforcement and civil society. In this role, we contribute practice-based evidence and coordinated civil society positions to national drug policy, including the National Programme on Illicit Drugs. We also coordinate Slovenia's NGO participation in the EU Early Warning System (EWS), facilitating information exchange on emerging substances and risks. Our member organisations contribute directly to EWS activities, including drug checking. Our research interests include rapidly evolving drug markets, NPS, synthetic stimulants and opioids, polysubstance use, emerging harms and gaps in existing responses. We offer nationwide practice-based insights and expertise on drugs and addiction, participatory and qualitative research, needs assessment, lived-experience involvement, stakeholder coordination, and co-development and evaluation of user-centred interventions.
